

BP Educational Consultation

---

5133 E. Kathleen Road, Scottsdale, Arizona 85254 • phone 602-320-1622

The Young Icons

Episode #1122

Copyright: Entertainment Studios, Inc.

Participants: Henry Miller - Entrepreneur
Ajiah Woo – Volleyball Player
Mackinlee Waddel – Actress and Philanthropist
Merit and Marlowe – “Plastic Patrol”

General Synopsis for Episode #1122

In this episode, committed and talented young icons share their stories of success. The guests open up the personal side of their journey and what made them decide to pursue their goals and take care of their community. Fourteen-year-old entrepreneur Henry Miller had so much sweet honey from his beehives that he created spicy honey. With his parents help, he started the company Henry’s Humdingers to sell his honey products, which are now in 100 stores on the east coast. Henry shares that his goal is to do as much as possible and is grateful to bees. Ajiah Woo is a 14-year-old volleyball player who found the Saint Sebastian Volleyball Club for special needs kids. Her love of the game and patience assist her in teaching specific skills to each participant so that they can learn to love the sport. Mackinlee Waddel was five years old when she had open-heart surgery. She is now a sixteen-year-old actress on ABC’s GCB show who wants to help raise funds for the Children’s Miracle Network and participate in other ways to give back to her community. She shares she would love to inspire kids. Sisters Merit and Marlowe were inspired by a show on Oprah on Earth Day and decided to launch a website called “Plastic Patrol” for kids to learn how to be green and save the ocean. They are conscious about plastic getting into the ocean so they pick up trash at the beach and in their community.

Observation and Conclusion

In episode #1122, teens will relate and be inspired by these inventive high achievers as role models giving them hope to achieve success. This episode of The Young Icons delivers an educational and informational message that supports current social, intellectual and emotional aspects of children ages 13 and up. Attributes and advice emphasized by guests instill a grounded balance of priorities, commitment, and perseverance children can apply to their lives.

Sincerely,

Barbara J. Pierce, MA Ed.

Educational Consultant